Walking for Health group steps out

The first outing of the new, local Walking for Health group took place at the end of September, with seven residents from Youlgrave, Middleton and Birchover joining the Health Walk leaders (Pete, Linda and Carl) for a very enjoyable walk. We went from Coldwell End car park over the fields to Meadow Place Grange, before walking down through the woods into Lathkill Dale and then following the dale back to the village and our starting point. We were lucky with the weather and of course the views before dropping down into the dale towards Bakewell and Manners Wood were spectacular.

Our second walk was held on 14 October. Again, this was well attended and followed a route from the car park down into Bradford Dale to Gratton Grange Farm and then back to the village. Although the weather was a bit drizzly everyone enjoyed the walk.

We have been very encouraged by the number of walkers who have joined us on our first two walks. So if you would like to get active please join us – you will be made very welcome.

The pace of the walks has been set by the walkers themselves and walking as part of a group is a good way to start getting active. You will find that everyone encourages each other to keep going. All the walks are free.

If you would like to join us we meet at 10.30am at Coldwell End car park, Youlgrave. The walks are held on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month, with the next on 11 and 25 November, 9 December and 13 January 2015. Do you enjoy quizzes? If so, The Farmyard Inn team have a vacancy (or perhaps two on a 'job share' basis) for their Sunday evening team. The quiz starts at 8.30pm and usually lasts about 90 minutes and is played either at home or away in the local area (furthest venues are in the Hope Valley). The season is from October to March. No specialist knowledge required, though any sport and pop fans will be especially welcome!

We are also looking for occasional players for our Wednesday league, which has a longer format and the area tends to be to the south of here.

The matches are played in a friendly and social spirit and are a pleasant way to meet people from other villages. If anybody is interested, please contact Tony Wilkin on 636159.

Minnie Wilson (1931–2014)

Minnie was born to Edwin and Mary Evans in Pretoria House, a tiny baby who spent her first months in a drawer – like so many other newborns before and since. With her younger sister, Janet, she attended Youlgrave School, working at Granby Sewing when she left. This proved far from the ideal job for her and she worked in Alport before moving on to be a modern milkmaid at the Shimwells' farm, bottling and delivering milk.

She met her future husband, Frank Wilson, at the pictures in Bakewell, a venue that will certainly hold many memories for local people of "a certain age"! The young couple lived with Frank's parents at Meadow View, moving when their eldest child, Ian, was born in 1958 to the house in Moor Lane, where both were to remain until their deaths. The twins, Jeffrey and Janice, arrived in 1962, something of a surprise to their parents, who had only been expecting one baby! Although Minnie worked part-time in Fred Eaton's village chip shop, she was happiest to stay at home as a wife and mother. Making sure that everyone was properly fed at midday and at teatime was of great importance to her, worthy of some discussion. Of more recent years, going out to Sunday lunch with family members became a real pleasure and treat – a celebratory meal at Hassop Hall consisted of roast beef, roast potatoes, mash and "every mortal thing". A triumph indeed!

Family would always come first for her, but Minnie was also very active in many aspects of village life. She joined the Women's Section of the Royal British Legion and the WRVS. She might be best remembered for her work running the Youlgrave Darby and Joan Club, now sadly defunct. She initially helped Fanny Shimwell, but later took over as organiser, running coffee mornings, sales and the much-loved Mystery Outings which always included the all-important afternoon tea out! For many years Minnie and Frank, when he was alive, worked on Jim Shimwell's Holywell well dressing, often accompanied by Janet, a regular visitor to Moor Lane. However, as she got older and the well dressers moved up Moor Lane from the ramshackle, soon-to-be demolished barn in the yard of Old Hall Farm, Minnie left well dressing to the younger generation.

With Frank, Minnie enjoyed walking, an annual holiday to Blackpool and took an active part in breeding and showing the champion poultry that were so much a part of their lives. Many people will remember their magnificent Buff Rocks! She tended to be a passive observer of her menfolk's pigeon racing. However, once Jeffrey had started sheep breeding, every spring, Minnie would gamely take on one or more cade lambs, which, as they got older and stronger, would be allowed to play in the yard in front of the house. Many youngsters will remember playing with the cade lambs, even bottle-feeding them with her help.

And Minnie did like children! A proud and very involved grandmother, she also was always approachable, helpful and friendly with all children and took a real interest in their progress and development over the years. She took a genuine interest in the lives of those around her; it was not nosiness, she just wanted to know about others, their triumphs, of course, but was also a sympathetic listener to their trials and tribulations. Animated chats over her garden gate were a feature of village life, venturing indoors would always entail a cup of tea, viewing the latest family photos and the admiration of the latest bargains snapped up from local sales or charity shops. Embarking on spring cleaning, garden upkeep or a spot of DIY, friends and neighbours would be treated to a cheerful, "Are you in the mood?" from Minnie as she watched the proceedings with interest. She wove the very fabric of village life.

Diagnosed with cancer at 80 – until which time she had never been to hospital – Minnie took two lots of chemotherapy in her stride with, it seemed, far less trouble than people half her age. She never complained and simply got on with life and that life continued to be rich and full until the opening months of this year. Cared for at home by the family and supported in the final six weeks by the Re-Enablement team and Daisy Chain carers, she had a constant stream of visitors until the very end. She has taken with her a little piece of Youlgrave and from the hearts of her family and friends. Her funeral at the Wesleyan Chapel ended with the same prayers used for Deborah Devonshire a few days previously, most fitting, the minister said, as "what's good enough for a dowager duchess is good enough for Minnie".

The Wilson family would particularly like to thank Dr Jackie Martin and the staff at Weston Park Hospital, Sheffield and the home-based carers for their help and support over this difficult period.

Legal claim over status of Over Haddon-Youlgrave route

A claim to add a Byway Open to All Traffic (BOAT) has been made on a route from Monyash Road, Over Haddon, via Lathkill Dale and Meadow Place Grange to Back Lane, near Conksbury.

Derbyshire County Council is asking parishioners and other users for personal knowledge of the use of this route as far back as you can remember. Specifically, they want to know what type of traffic you have seen during the times you have travelled it and if possible the dates that this traffic was seen and what it was doing – going back all the years you have used it. Equally, they are interested to hear if there are types of traffic you have not seen when using it.

The official County Council letter, map of the route and evidence form for you to complete is available to download at www.youlgrave.org.uk – go to the News page. The deadline for submissions has now been extended to 7 November.

Youlgrave Parish Council is keen to assist in providing this evidence and copies of the form have been circulated to councillors for distribution, or are available from the clerk at Christmas Cottage, Church Street, Youlgrave, tel 636151.

Youlgrave WI: 95 and getting younger!

We celebrated our 95th anniversary in style, with many members, long-standing and 'freshers' alike, enjoying a lovely dinner at Hassop Hall with the usual attentive service and beautiful surroundings.

In September, our outing to 'the dogs', and a two-tier dining experience revealed the most skilled 'form' experts amongst us, as they returned home with their winnings. Food, as always, is never far from our agenda, and a lovely supper accompanied our October meeting when the ladies took on an angelicaura during a tutored beading session. Our Coffee morning was a great success, with many villagers attending and admiring the crafts, cakes, bric-a-brac etc and the superb prizes on offer.

October Supper Club Beetle Drive will merit a spooky report next month, after the gore has been cleared up! Plenty to look forward to in November too – Sunday 2nd is Pam's walk, followed by a pub lunch. Craft sessions continue on 3rd and 17th November, meeting at Liz McCloy's on the 3rd at 2pm. The Supper Club Christmas Dinner will be held at The Farmyard Inn on 27 November.

Our regular meeting is on Tuesday 11 November. As well as the all important AGM, members and guests are invited to join a clothes schwapping experience. See posters or ask a member for details. Venue is the Village Hall at 7.30pm. All are welcome.

Beekeeping in and around Youlgrave

The bees have been tucked up for the winter now. Bumblebees and wasps and the like spend the summer building a colony to raise new queens. In the autumn the colonies die out and bumblebee and wasp queens hunt for safe and warm places to hibernate until emerging in the spring. Bumblebees are the first to emerge because they have furry coats and can fly in slightly lower temperatures, which is why you see the large queens bumbling around gardens when the sun begins to feel a little warmer and a few flowers are out to provide food. Early crocuses are a favourite, and pulmonaria and winter flowering jasmine. In fact, anything which flowers from February into March. Some bee-keepers plant wallflowers as another early crop of food.

As for our honey bees, they don't hibernate but cluster in the hive using the food they have stored all summer in the form of honey to see them through the cold and damp days. I sometimes wonder if one of the reasons for bee decline is that we have been too greedy in taking all the honey they can produce and then feeding them sugar solution to store for winter which has none of the complicated food constituents provided by nectar and pollen. It would seem logical that it would effect their health over time.

One of the reasons that the local bee group was set up under the aegis of Sustainable Youlgrave was a concern to increase the local bee population. Most of the members of the bee group now have their own hives as well as belonging to the group, so this has certainly worked. If you, or anyone you know, would be interested in taking up bee-keeping, now is the time to start thinking about it. The ideal way is to learn the theory over the winter, then join the group to practice that knowledge for a season and then begin to keep your own bees with the group as back-up and support. If you are interested please contact Judith Orchard on 630202 or Jeni Edwards on 636550. JE

Report from Youlgrave Parish Council

The October meeting of the Parish Council was informed of the plans of the 1914-18 Great War Community Group and was pleased to give its backing to bids for any grant assistance they may seek. Evidence forms were distributed to Councillors who are concerned that there is a claim over the legal status of the route from Over Haddon across Lathkill Dale, through Meadow Place Farm, into an all-vehicle access route. It's currently lodged with the County Council and the Parish Council urges parishioners to submit their first-hand knowledge of the historical uses of this route by the 7th November deadline – see report on page 7.

Other matters mainly dealt with repairs and renewals to parish assets and the initial ideas supplied by the Primary School children to create a route through the lower playing fields to form a cycle trail. This project is being investigated with a view to construction once the ground firms up in the Spring. This project and other ideas will be discussed more fully at our November budget setting Council meeting on 25 November.

Matthew Lovell, Youlgrave Parish Council Clerk

Church Farm Diary, November 2014

The weather has been quite kind for October, so we still have some cows and calves out in the fields. They have a feed supplement of silage and grains and because there are not too many cattle the ground is not getting too churned up.

Dakin has been ploughing and seeding for a neighbouring farm and I see that the seed is coming up after a nice shower of rain – nature always seems to sort it out. We might think that it is too dry, wet, cold, etc and of course you worry, but left alone (as we can't do anything about it) it nearly always ends up OK. Thank goodness we don't have really extreme weather as they do abroad.

The photo below is of our new granddaughter, Alice Elizabeth, with her Mum Elizabeth and Dad Mark and big brother George. Alice arrived on 22nd September, making our sixth grandchild.

Marjorie Shimwell

Bakewell Pudding

This recipe is my own version, so the original recipe may be different, but I find that it works quite well.

Line a 7 inch pie dish or flan dish with puff pastry (sometime I cheat and use frozen).

For the filling:

*3 egg yolks
3 oz castor sugar
Almond essence
2 egg whites
2oz butter
Strawberry jam*

Spread the jam on the pastry and don't be to temped to put too much on, as it will lift to the top.

Make the filling by melting the butter and sugar in a pan. Let this cool a little and mix in the egg yolks, beating well as to not curdle. Fold in the whisked egg whites and almond essence and spread on top of the jam.

Bake in the oven at 425 or gas 6 for about 20-30 mins until the pudding is lightly brown on top, quite firm but still wobbly. If you find that the pastry is not cooked enough I have sometimes blind cooked the pastry first.

Support, enjoy – and join – the Village Band

Hopefully you've seen the Bowls Club advert in this Bugle (page 5), for our Christmas concert on 11 December. I do think one of the best assets of this village is when we see two of our many groups combine to support each other, as has happened for many years for this concert.

Of course, we are dependent on the support from the village for this to be a success. So book the date, bring your tinsel and come for a great, fun evening.

We will also be carol playing outside at Chatsworth Stables on Sunday 21 December through the afternoon, interspersed with a choir in our interval. It's free to enter after parking.

The band performing at Chatsworth last year.

Also look out for our carol playing around Youlgrave on the crisp evenings leading up to Christmas, with the voluntary singers (another example of combined groups).

The New Year will bring a new repertoire of music to learn and play. If anyone would like to join us, or even take up an instrument, we will welcome them and are always keen to help.

You can see us on the village website www.youlgrave.org.uk and also follow our own Facebook page.

Red candles to light the Christmas Services

As last year, we are making requests for offers to help buy the 500 red candles we need every year to decorate and light the church. Please contact Barbara Scrivener 636601 or Garrie Griffiths 630409 if you are able to help. The Memorial candles list is now in church. You don't have to be a church-goer to order a candle. Anyone in the village, or visitors, is welcome to join in with this very beautiful way of remembering people. The candles are displayed all down the side chapel in church. If you are new to this, just add your name to the list on the table in church and the name of the person/s you want remembered. Put 50p per person in an envelope, with your name and the name of the person/s to be remembered on it, and give it to Barbara, Andrew or leave it at the Post Office. Please remember to tick the list in church that you have paid or else you will be asked whether you've paid for your candle yet. Any queries please contact Barbara 636601.

Do you live on your own and feel the need for more company and support, but don't want a care home?

At Granby House you can be as independent as you want. You can eat meals cooked by the staff, go on the many social events and treat your en-suite room as you would your own home. All rooms are connected to an alarm system and help can be summoned at any time of day or night.

If more assistance is needed, home help can be arranged. Financial support is available in the same way as it is in a private house. The weekly costs can be surprisingly modest.

If you are interested in hearing more about Granby House, please ring Pat Cleaver on 01629 636836 or email granbyhouse@gmail.com.

CENTENARY EXHIBITION

As many of you know, the Youlgreave 1914-1918 Community Group was formed earlier this year to facilitate the commemoration of the centenary of The Great War, by involving as many different groups within the community as possible. Our current ideas and plans have been presented to the Parish Council and they have given their full support.

We are in the process of mounting a four-day exhibition, in conjunction with Youlgrave School. This will take place in All Saints Church from Saturday 8th to Tuesday 11th November inclusive, from 10am to 4pm daily. The exhibition will include items, some of which have been kindly loaned, from the period. Some of the artefacts are of a military nature, whilst others reflect daily life in the village and surrounding area 100 years ago.

As part of the four year project, we are researching the background to the stained glass panels in the church to the memory of Capt Rennie Waterhouse and hoping to establish a link with the people of Ypres and surrounding churches, where the glass was originally collected. This feature is unique to Youlgreave and we have been invited by Derbyshire County Council to submit a bid for funding to support the creation of two permanent reminders of the centenary, one of which can be presented to a partner church in Ypres. This year we will hold a short service of remembrance at 10.45am on Armistice Day, Tuesday 11 November, in addition to the traditional Sunday Remembrance Service.

'What shall I draw?' Poems from Class 1, Youlgrave School

What shall I draw? By Natalie

Draw a washing line with washing on the line

Apples falling off the trees

Smoke swirling in the sky

Washing blowing in the breeze

Wind blowing the hammock

Pale green grass been cut.

What shall I draw? By Evie

A horse is going by

An orange and green butterfly

What Shall I draw next?

A hammock swinging in the tree

Some flowers growing

A smoking chimney

Trees blowing

The washing is dripping

Mum is opening the curtains.

What shall I draw? By

Franchesca

A beautiful horse in his field.

A beautiful pony as well.

I love a swing swinging me in the wind.

A beautiful bird fluttering in the sky.

What shall I draw? By Archer

Draw Big Ben as tall as a sky scraper.

Now put a clock on the top.

Draw a river flowing like a beautiful blue diamond under a bridge.

Now beside it put London Eye spinning like a hurricane.

Put the Queens palace down the road with the queen looking through the window waving out.

Youlgrave Wildlife Notes: October 2014

Our Indian summer came to an end on 3rd October, though there were some quite warm days after that. The wildflowers continue to bloom and on my walk just before writing I counted 23 species in flower, down from 58 in September. Mostly these were occasional plants, though the little blue and white ivy leafed toadflax was quite common on the walls. Also on the walls two little ferns, wall rue and maidenhair spleenwort, seemed to be thriving on the cooler damper conditions. Another plant that seems to have done very well this year is the silver birch. The tiny winged seeds have been finding their way into the house and the car, not to mention coming down like drizzle under the trees.

Wall rue and maidenhair spleenwort.

There were still butterflies about in the beginning of the month and, on the 25th, there was a dragonfly in the garden. The report of elephant hawk moth caterpillars on Main Street in the last issue prompted a second report of the caterpillars on a lawn down New Road.

The changes in the bird population continue with a report of three willow warblers passing along the Dale and a second sighting of a chiffchaff in our garden, both late last month. The winter thrushes don't seem to have arrived in the village yet, but there have been reports of redwings in the county but no fieldfare nearby at the moment. There was a flock of well over 100 golden plover in a field near Friden, presumably migrating from the moors to the coast. Birds of prey have been well recorded, with a peregrine down the Dale, plenty of sightings of buzzards and frequent visits to the garden by sparrowhawks. My favourite report for a sparrowhawk, though, was one that sat on top of a bird feeder for about an hour in the forlorn hope that a small bird would come down to feed. It went hungry.

Owls have continued to hoot down the Dale. The small birds are now returning to the feeders, both at home and down the Dale, with plenty of greenfinches, chaffinches, goldfinches and bullfinches, plus sparrows and great, blue and coal tits. Nuthatches and a woodpecker have also visited feeders down the Dale. A first on one of our feeders was a tree sparrow. The tree sparrow can be distinguished from the common house sparrow by its brown instead of grey cap and clearer markings. It is very scarce now in much of the countryside so this was a real treat.

On the river, dipper, wagtail and dabchick were all present on the 25th, along with the resident heron. A heron was seen being mobbed by jackdaws. The kingfisher is back, with a sighting sitting on the parapet of Bradford Bridge and one followed for some way down from the top of the Dale.

My thanks to Brian, Margaret, John, Mary, Simon and Jenny for your contributions and all observations gratefully received.
