Children's knitted blanket warms residents

The children of Youlgrave All Saints Primary School visited the elderly residents of Granby House last week to deliver their much prized blanket (pictured).

As part of the school's WW1 topic, Friday afternoons for the last half term were devoted to knitting. The blanket is the result of their labours with every child, from 4 to 11, knitting at least one square.

The school invited members of the village community to come and support and assist the children, and inspired some of even the less likely candidates to contribute. The resulting blanket is colourful and warm, and will be treasured by Granby House residents.

Members of the School Council presented the knitted blanket to residents of Granby House.

January has also seen the launch of the new Breakfast Club at All Saints to extend the school day for working families. Catering for school children from 8am, a simple breakfast is provided with supervised indoor activities for only £3 per session. To enquire please contact the office on 01629 636289.

In other news, the School has welcomed Miss Katie Blood as a permanent teacher for Class 2. After helping out on a voluntary basis before Christmas, she says she already feels part of the school family.

Silver paper recycling at back of church

We don't want to stop raising money for charity, but we are having a bit of a problem with the collection. It can only take tin foil dishes and tin foil as used in cooking and milk bottle tops. They can't recycle yogurt pot lids, sweet papers, pill press-out containers, animal food pouches, etc. So please don't put those in your collection and check it carefully before taking it to church. Thank you.

Waterworks asks you to listen for leaks

Youlgrave Waterworks Ltd. have a favour to ask of every householder in the village supplied by YWW, as you may have seen the diligent Waterworks staff have recently been trying to trace and repair any water leaks around the village. This is quite time consuming and involves wandering about in the small hours of the morning to see what part of the village the water is generally flowing to, then going round every stop tap in that area until we find the leak. In most cases, the leaks cause a high pitched whistle very much like escaping compressed air. This is also accompanied by a gradual loss of pressure to the property as the leak worsens. It's usually quite audible in the house, so would you please have a listen late at night when it is quiet (not straight from the pub) and if you do hear anything please ring Malcolm on 07762053979 or John on 07710640142.

Even the slightest leak runs away with thousand of gallons over a week and all that water has to be treated and pumped. Also, the consumption of the village continues to rise with tourism, holiday lets, new houses, etc, and add to this the Environment Agency flatly refusing to increase our 1978 abstraction licence, a rock and a hard place comes to mind. MS

A big “thank you” from Youlgrave Playschool

The children, parents and staff of Playschool would like to say a huge “thank you” to everyone who has been involved with their recent fundraising. We had some really great prizes donated for our raffle, and parents and friends did really well to sell loads of tickets. We made over £700.

Thanks to Sue at The Farmyard Inn for letting us hi-jack her Christmas market and allow us to have a Santa's Grotto for the afternoon – hopefully this will become an annual event.

Also to Youlgrave Parish Council for their generous donation; and Lindam Construction for their kind donation.

Thank to everyone at Granby House and Monkee Genes who welcomed the little ones when they visited them singing carols.

Thanks to Nick Stacey, Tony Ball and The Bulls Head team for hosting a great quiz evening and again to Tony and Belinda for their kind gifts for the children.

To Andrea Willans for the superb face painting at our last day of term party, and to Mick Partridge for all his help. From compiling a local quiz to balloon modelling, we are really lucky to have Mick involved.

And finally thanks to Santa, who really made the children's faces light up when he came to visit them at Playschool.

Future fundraising events not to be missed include the 'Fabulous at The Farmyard' – an evening of style, fashion, make-up and beauty advice. And look out for 'An evening with our village paramedics' and an exciting 'open garden day'. More details on posters and ads around the village and in future issues of The Bugle.

Peggy Skinner (1926-2015)

Peggy was born in 1926 and was the fourth of eight siblings. She was born in a council house on New Road in Youlgrave and it is fitting that she spent her last few years at Granby House – literally a stone's throw from the house where she was born.

1926 was a good year for births, so Peggy was in esteemed company. Notable births included our very own Queen Elizabeth, Moira Shearer, Danny Blanchflower, Kenneth Williams, David Coleman, David Attenborough and Eric Morecambe to name but a few.

Peggy attended Youlgrave School and won a scholarship to Lady Manners but with eight mouths to feed, her father couldn't afford the uniform and was too proud to accept charity and so instead she left school at 15 and went to work at Granby Garments in Bakewell as a seamstress.

Peggy's hobbies included knitting, reading and embroidery. Her knitting output was prolific. She also liked to do the crossword in the Sun newspaper and never failed to complete it.

Peggy met her husband Bob through her sister, Lilian, whose fiancé Ron Wood served with him during the war. Initially, Peggy and Bob became pen pals. Eventually they met and were married in 1947. During the early days, they lived for short time with Bob's parents in London but neither of them enjoyed city life and the opportunity to move back to Youlgrave arose when Bert Evans, a local builder, advertised for a plumber. Bob eventually set up his own business. They were happily married until Bob's death in 2011.

Peggy was blessed with a good singing voice and was very proud of the fact that she was selected to sing the aria 'I Know That My Redeemer Liveth' from Handel's Messiah at Derby Cathedral under the direction of conductor Stanford Robinson, who was the Simon Rattle of his day. Peggy used to sing in the church choir and church services on Sunday evening were usually followed by a game of whist with her sister, Barbara, and good friend, Kathleen Wilson.

Peggy and Bob loved their holidays and after their sons had fledged the nest, they enjoyed many a break with Frank and Marie Evans, although Peggy would never travel by boat or plane and so never had a passport. She had a fear of sailing, although after fortifying her with a few gin and tonics, they did manage the ferry to the Isle of Wight on one occasion. She always maintained that she would only fly if she could keep one foot on the floor.

Prior to retirement, Peggy worked as a teaching assistant at Youlgrave Junior School where she helped many a child learn to read. She spent the last five years of her life at Granby House and the family would like to express particular thanks both to the staff and managers of Granby House, and to the home helps who visited every day and helped her to dress and get ready for morning coffee in the conservatory with the other residents.

Youlgrave is so fortunate to have such good retirement accommodation where those in the autumn of their lives can enjoy the comfort, security and convenience of having meals cooked for them, plus companionship and recreation, and yet still retain their independence.

Peggy suffered a slight stroke some six years ago and although this didn't affect her speech, it did affect her memory and she found meaningful conversation a little difficult, although she had the ability to surprise on occasion. For instance, she used to love poetry and surprised everyone at Granby House recently by reciting word perfect the poem by William Butler Yeats The Lake Isle of Innisfree.

New Year sessions start again from 7 February – jogging for absolute beginners and all runners. Meet at the Scout and Community Hut every Saturday from 10.30-11.30am. Ring me if you'd like to get out at another time.

Come and learn to enjoy jogging with a friendly group and trained leader - it's much easier than trying on your own! Everyone is welcome and it's free, apart from an occasional small donation for use of the venue.

Any enquiries please contact Pete Tapping 0775 2463918.

Important news from Youlgrave Band

Youlgrave Silver Band would like to give sincere and hearty thanks to all the wonderful music supporters who enjoyed the band playing carols around the village on that dark and wintry night before Christmas. They gave so generously we harvested double last year's donations. This money will be put to good use. The players enjoyed it and I think the listeners did too.

The big change for this coming year is that our conductor Paul Harding has kindly volunteered to tutor any budding brass instrument players on a weekly basis. If you, or anyone you know, would like to learn a brass instrument then this is your time to learn. Children learn more easily, but often adults have more enthusiasm. Free lessons will take place at the Methodist Church Hall, Coldwell End, Youlgrave, at 7pm till 7.45pm from Thursday 3 February.

There are a number of instruments to borrow, sample and find the one to suit you. In a brass band each instrument is as important as every other. For a child, learning an instrument teaches much more than just music skills. There are many spin offs to help in adult life, such as the concept of practice, and perseverance leading to achievement, self confidence, dexterity, breathing and posture.

This is a very generous offer from Paul and a wonderful opportunity for youngsters in our village. We look forward to meeting our future musicians any time from February.

Please support the Bugle in 2015

Thank you to all the local businesses, community groups and individuals who are renewing their back page sponsorship for the year ahead. Rates remain unchanged at £25 for businesses and £20 for community groups and individuals.

Also, a big thank you to those people (some anonymous) who have made donations to the Bugle to help us keep going for another year. The Bugle is an entirely voluntary publication – no-one gets paid – put together by local people for local people. Our printing costs are met by back page sponsorship, adverts and individual donations. So, from all of us on the Bugle team, THANK YOU for your continued support. If you want to make a contribution, however small, you can use the form below or leave cash or cheque (made payable to The Bugle) in a sealed envelope at Youlgrave Post Office; or drop it into Ann Knowles at The Garden House, Fountain Square (behind the youth hostel).

Orchard plans begin to blossom

Enthusiasm is beginning to swell for the community orchard as the housing project, that will be Hannah Bowman Way, nears completion. A small group of enthusiasts led by Marie Christine Schmidt will shortly be pulling together a scheme and making applications for funding.

The School's gardening club has expressed an interest in helping, as have the British Legion and the 1914-1918 community group. I have also had an offer to buy a tree from a resident of the village who simply wanted 'to do their bit and give something back to the village'. Offers to buy trees, to remember a loved one or an anniversary, or celebrate the arrival of a new member to the family, are also very welcome. Anyone wishing to do so should contact me with their details, and then I can set the wheels in motion. Anne Croasdell (tel 636887)

World War I Centenary Football Match

On Saturday 20 December more than 100 people gathered in the paddock at the top of Holywell Lane to witness a short re-enactment of the historic Christmas Truce of 1914.

Some 14 players from Youlgrave Football Club (recruited by Jonathan Figg) took part, emerging from behind their respective sandbagged 'trenches' as the Germans sang Stille Nacht (Silent Night). Each side symbolically removed the 'bodies' of fallen comrades from No Man's Land. This was particularly poignant as it recalled the actions of the local 1st Battalion Sherwood Foresters a century ago. The two sides then exchanged gifts of tobacco, bully beef, cake and biscuits.

A leather football was produced and sandbags became improvised goals – both sides then engaged wholeheartedly in the football match with plenty of vocal support from the spectators.

The grey-clad Germans took an early lead and their goal advantage increased, but the plucky khaki-clad Tommies rallied and in a tense final few minutes managed to equalise and produce an honourable draw as the final whistle sounded.

Both teams then lined up to face the spectators and wooden crosses and poppies were given to each player.

The modern folk song Coming Home was played, reminding us that young men and women are still making the ultimate sacrifice for their country, with the haunting Bonne Light Horseman recalling losses of earlier Napoleonic conflicts.

After the music there was a one minute silence before the playing of The Last Post and the young men planted their crosses and poppies in the No Man's Land pitch, a very moving echo of the sacrifice paid a century ago.

The players and supporters then marched off to the Wesleyan Reform Chapel for refreshments, including the popular Trench Cake (see recipe below) and singing of wartime songs. We are sorry that we were not able to accommodate everyone who wanted to come in.

Some of the commemorative events to date have involved the children and members of the older generation and it was pleasing to see the young men embracing the event so enthusiastically and respectfully, even dressing the part.

The Youlgrave 1914-1918 Community Group would like to thank all those who helped in any way with this event.

A festive fistful

Frozen but friendly... as the W.I. begins a chilly National Centenary year we recall a hectic Christmas Party packed with fun and talent. As well as Dawn's superb 95th Birthday cake cut by Margaret Deeming and our own feast with wine, we heard Cath's lovely solos, Jane Ide's amusing poem and her winning contorted 'key game' team, Lucy's victorious Quiz team, and Sue Reed's successful Logo winners. Sandra won the shouting game, and Joan Steed and Jill the stand-up bingo. We also received a welcome cheque for our new projector from Cllr Simon Spencer. Our January meeting used the new equipment to illustrate the superb handiwork of member Paula Dengel, who showed us the unique world of Hardanger embroidery and brought some of her fantastic prize-winning items to admire.

On 17 January, the community bus took a crowd of us to see 'Anything Goes' organized by Jane at the Crucible – a marvellously uplifting evening and we all tap-danced in our sleep that night! January Supper Club on the 29th was due to see the return of Sally Moseley, writer and walking expert. February Supper Club, on the 26th at the Reading Room, allows us to go 'potty' with paint. There is a chance to join other members on 5 Feb at the village panto, and looking forward, the list is growing for our annual lovely lunch at Biggin Hall.

February Craft sessions will be held on Mondays 2nd and 16th, normally at Jean's, from 2 till 4pm. Our next W.I. meeting is on 10 February at 7.30pm at the Village Hall, when organ donation will be our topic. This is an open meeting when family and friends will be most welcome. We were delighted to welcome new members Sandy and Jennifer, plus visitors from Winster and Over Haddon at the last meeting.

If you would like to know more about our W.I. do come along to a meeting, every second Tuesday, or speak to any member to find out more.

Wishing A Happy New Year to all, and warm wishes to Margaret for a return to better health.

Happy and successful Crib Service once more

The 2014 Crib Service followed the usual happy, chaotic, family tradition! Many thanks to all those who took part, especially Nikki and baby Georgie Leach, helped out by Paul Skinner who was the Joseph 'stand in'! and John Bingham, 'stable boy,' gate, straw and manger supplier, not forgetting the catching and transporting of a beautiful young sheep by the Bright/Gilbert family.

Christmas candles in church: 464 Memorial Candles were donated this year and the new system of displaying the names seems to be working well. Many thanks to Catherine Birch for doing the hard work of the printing, Joan Roper and Joy Frost for putting them out and removing them and everyone who bought them. Without you buying them, we wouldn't have that wonderful red glow down the side of the Lady Chapel.

Thanks too to those who gave donations towards the red candles in church. Happily all the cost of the candles was covered, with some left over towards next year's candles. David Camm, Eddie Oldfield, Mike Gibbs and Andrew Parker put up and took down the candles, a time consuming job and next year would love to have some more help so please offer NOW and then we'll remind you in December!

Thanks. BS

'Minibeast' poems from Class 1, All Saints Primary School

A Centipede

Runs as fast as a racing car.
It's a wild life thing.
100 legs.
Thin, as long as a ladder.
It lives in the wood.
It's wiggly.

By Evie Year 1

A Ladybird

As red as a berry.
As beautiful as a diamond.
The legs are as small as an ant.
As spotty as a cheetah.
Sparkling like a diamond.
Shy like a pony.
Red like an apple.

A Worm

It goes slow
Wiggly
Slimy
It can go in the soil
It can go on the road.

Youlgrave Wildlife Notes: December 2014 & January 2015

Even though we are in the dead of winter the bird activity in the last two months has been tremendous. The star has been a little egret. I first saw this small white heron on 6 January below Alport and it has been widely reported since, including the bottom of Brookleton and Rheinstor. There has been some conflict between it and a heron. Little egrets started to appear in Britain in significant numbers in the late 1980s and the first breeding record was in 1996. Since then they have become well established throughout England and Wales and show up in Derbyshire quite regularly. They still produce excitement, however, and this is certainly a first for me in the village. If you see it, look out for the huge yellow feet on black legs.

Another local favourite has been the kingfisher. There have definitely been at least two this year as they have been seen together and are still around. My best view was on 12 January, sitting on a fence post above floodwater by the track up to Hollow Farm.

Our winter visitors have been plentiful. There were large numbers of both fieldfare and redwing above the Dale and around the New Dam. On the 15th and 30 December I had redwings in the garden finishing off the last of the cotoneaster berries. At the end of December over 30 lapwings were present above Alport. On Christmas Day I counted 32 species of birds around the village. Both siskin and redpoll have been visiting sunflower heart feeders along Grove Place. Our river birds such as the dipper and heron can be seen and some swans and cygnets have also been reported.

Other good sightings have been tree creeper and jay, with plenty of bullfinches and even one flock of seven, to add a bit of extra colour.

Buzzards, sparrowhawks and kestrels have all been seen along with probable peregrines and possibly even a hen harrier. There was a very good sighting of a tawny owl near the allotments on 8 January. Goldfinches and sparrows have been plentiful on the feeders with around six pheasants scavenging underneath.

Our resident feral chicken has so far survived the winter with a bit of food aid. Apart from the birds I had a rather close encounter with a large stag near Hawley's bridge on 8 January and hibernating butterflies, disturbed by household warmth, have been sucking honey solution down Bankside. Finally, the snowdrops have started to bloom. Spring is on its way!

My thanks for the many interesting reports I have received for this article from Simon, Jayne, Kath, Denise, New Road Birders, Charlotte, Sue, Mick, Keith, Eve and Ann. I hope I have acknowledged everyone. Please keep the reports coming in.
